BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Hathaway's Seat as Councilman from the Third Ward to Be Contested.

QUO WARRANTO PROCEEDINGS BEGUN

Grounds on Which Mr. Gleason Hopes to Have His Opponent Ousted-A Short History of the Case from Election Day.

The prospect of a course of litigation to decide whether F. O. Gleason, republican, or J. J. Hathaway, democratic candidate for alderman at the last election, shall represent the people of the Third ward in the city council, has been mentioned in THE BEE. The prospect has now assumed the form of a reality, and Gleason filed his papers yesterday afternoon in the district court, seeking to have Hathaway ousted from his seat in the council by quo warranto proceedings. The petition alieges that the votes cast at the election would have given a majority for Gieason but for the fact that there was a miscount, several ballots being counted for Hathaway that should not have been, and the judges having refused to count for Gleason a number of votes to which he was justly entitled. It states that judges neted fraudulently in certifying to the city council that the election had re-sulted in a tie, the tie subsequently being decided in hathaway's favor by a drawing in which the mayor and city council participated. The petitioner, who is C. G. Saunders, and not Gleason, asks that all illegal ballots be excluded, that Hathaway be ballots be excluded, that Hathaway be cousted from his sout in the council until such time as he shall be able to make a showing by what authority he occupies it, and that finally it be determined that Gleason is the duly elected alderman from the Third ward.

AT DOHANY'S THIS WEEK.

Mrs. Florence in "The Mighty Dollar." After a retirement of several years Mrs. W. J. Florence, owing to the great demand being made for her appearance, has again returned to the stage, and will be seen at the Dohany theater for an engagement of one night only on Wednesday, March 22.

Mrs. Florence will be seen in her famous role of Mrs. General Gilflor, in the well known comedy of "The Mighty Dollar," Her portrayal of the role of Mrs. General illflory has always been considered her best part, as it was in this character creation, he made herself famous as a comedienne. "The Mighty Dollar" is a play which depicts with graphic and scattling satire the evergrowing, all-devouring passion for wealth and influence, which is a dominant characteristic of the American reconle and influence, which is a dominant characteristic of the American people.

The whole atmosphere is intensely American, the piece has aiready been praised by press and public, and in the forthcoming production at the Dohany theater, it is said, will be staged and costumed elaborately, the dresses worn by Mrs. Florence being marvels of the dressmaker's art and were designed and made by the famous Felix of Paris. GARDNER IN "FATHERLAND,"

On Thursday evening next Charles A. Gardner, the jolly comedian and sweet singer, will appear at Dohany's in "Fatherland." The New York Herald says:

"The wealth of scenic possibilities afforded in a drama having for its scene of action the picturesque country of Tyrol was fully taken advantage of by that cleared in the picture of the advantage of by that elever dislect comedian, Charles A. Gardner, in his production of the "Fatherland" last evening. Mr. Gardner, who stands at the head of his particular line and is a very sweet singer, introduced a number of taking songs rendered in his own peculiar and happy way. The Tyrolean quartet were heard in several pleasing selections. The star and play greatly pleased the large audience."

Just prior to the former's leaving for the south last fall a checking up of the books resulted in the dis-covery that he had overdrawn his account to covery that he had overdrawn his account to the amount of several thousand dollars. To partially square up the deficiency Clark assimfed his $5,000 policy to Wright, or so the latter claims. Mrs. Clark, however, in whose favor the policy was originally drawn, disputes this, and in furnishing her proofs of her husband's death she informed the company that only $500 of the policy had been assigned. The company made no conbeen assigned. The company made no con-test as to the variety of the claim, but re-fused to pay off the policy until the two claimants had settled their dispute. A settlement between them having proved to be out of the question, the present suit has been started for the purpose of having it decided by $the court whether Wright or Mrs. Clark is the proper beneficiary.

A World Fair Window. There are some enterprising and public spirited women in the Columbian club, and they are intent on having Council Bluffs represented at the World's fair in some way which will attract attention. They have decided on furnishing a very handsome art window for the Iowa building. It will cost several hundred dollars, but the ladies are not daunted, and they have faith in Council Bluffs to support them in their plan. The ladies propose to raise the needed amount by subscriptions of $1 each. Several hundred citizens should respond without waiting for citizens should respond without waiting for any personal appeal. Contributors can leave their names and dollars at the raffway ticket office of Captain O. M. Brown, corner of Pearl and Broadway. They should be handed in this week; the sponer the better. Clean Up Penri Street. "I wish THE BEE would emphasize the fact that Pearl street has become one of the most important business thoroughfares in the city," said one of its prominent merchants yesterday. "In years gone by it was considered a sort of back alley for Main street, and the Pearl street entrances of all the business houses were denoumnated as back doors. But this is so no longer. It has now the frontages of the finest buildings in the city and carries more traffic of all kinds than Broadway. For this reason the merchants Broadway. For this reason the merchants along the street, especially the upper end should be urged to take more pride in its ap-pearance. The majority of them do so, but there are a few who still overlook the new conditions and pile ash barrels and goods conditions and pile ash parrels and goods boxes on the pavement after the old style and make it difficult for people to pass along the sidewalk. It's the finest street in the city and we all want it to be the handsomest in every respect."

TWENTY DAYS TOUR OF THE CONTINENT

Miss Mitchell Will Cross the Continent, Visit the Top of Chapaltepee and Return to New York Without Setting Foot on Ground-Railroad Notes.

A number of railroad men prominent in passenger circles were discussing the famous trips in history one evening last week at a prominent Chicago hotel and incidentally talked of the achievements of women in making famous trips, Nelly Bly and Elizabeth Bisland coming in for a good share of the praise in demonstrating what can be done by the weaker sex along these lines. The talk, however, gradually drifted from individual cases to a discussion of the superiority of through car service, palace car arrangements and the excellence of union depot accommodations throughout the United States, with the single exception of Own of Omaha. In the party were several representatives of one or two foreign roads in attendance upon the meeting of the World's fair rate committee, who were disposed to ques-tion the assertions of the Americans compos-ing the party. ing the party. A well known passenger agent, the head of

A well known passenger agent, the head of one of the biggest systems in this country, in a quiet way made the boast that a lady could leave Chicago for Portland, Ore., thence to San Francisco and El Paso, Tex., and thence to the City of Mexico, go to the top of the Hill of Chapultepec, return to Larsao, Tex., thence to St. Louis, New York and Boston and back to Chicago and need not put her faot on the ground, and that on twenly-four hours notice he could find a lady to undertake such notice he could find a lady to undertake such The foreign representatives of the railroads were skeptical about the big statement made and challenged the gentleman to name the lady who would undertake such a journey, which while not so famous as that taken by Nellie Bly, promises to be much more advantageous to the railroads of the continent

The arrangements were completed and Miss Bess Mitchell of Chicago, a very attractive young lady of that city, who has been associated with railroads more or less, will leave on her remarkable tour Wednesday, at 10:30 p. m., via the Northwestern and Union Pacific for Portland, Ore. The Famed Lecturer, Authoress and Philanthropist, Heartily Endorses the Work of the Copeland Physicians From Her Own Experience -Their Methods, Their Charges and Their Skill Praised.

"Why, doctor," said a lady a few days ago in the offices of Drs. Cope and and Shepard. If I had known the treatment was so pleasal I and agreeable I would have been here long ago. My bushand, who took your treatment kept urging me to come, and assured me it was not in the least unp easant or painful. but I was afraid he was only telling he this to get me to your office, as he knew how badly I needed the treatment. I am sorry I have been so foolish as to fear the treatment, but really my nerves had been so anstrung. I feit so weak and nervous, that I thought I could not stand anything. This treatment is positively pleasant and leaves my head in such a comfortable condition for hours."

'ontrasted with this lady's experience is that or another who had been treated by the old method.

"Why, soctor," said a lady, "If I told you what I suffered under their severe treatment you would hardly bedeve me. They would apply something into my nose and when I would blow out the secretions on my hander holes in the handkerchief. I know it seems to to you almost beyond belief, but I have got to lay at my home several handkerchiefs that were ruined in this way. You can imagine how strong this stuff was that they put into my nose when I would destroy the fibre of a linen pocket handkerchief."

MRS. LIVERMORE

States Her Experience With and Bellef in the Copeland Work.

The writer called upon Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, the noted lecturer, author and philanthropist at her home in Roston's beautiful suburb. Melrose. She spoke of the work being done by the Copeland physicians, and said that in her relation to them as a patient two things had impressed her and led her to recommend their work to her friends and those who had asked her opinion about them. One was that their charges were very reasonable bringing skille in medical service within the reach of the masses and the other free that their methods were unlided and gentle, and they never seemed inclined to resort to here to the battent, for the sake of a little charge of the patient, for the sake of a little cheap notor ety. On this account she considered them safe as well as skillful.

As to her own case, she wrote and signed the following:

"I have been a natient under the Combine Copeland Work.

"I have been a patient under the Copeland
"I have been a patient under the Copeland treatment and physicians. I experienced great length from the treatment found them sentlemnly, kind and reliable, and in my case they were certainly skillful."

The treatment of Drs. Copeland and Shepard is appreciated by thousands of people who have wasted arge sums of money on patent medicines. It is appreciated by thousands in remote towns and villages, where it is impossible to command the services of skuliful physicians or specialists. When this treatment is less expensive than drug lills and dectors fees it is no wonder that it is appreciated. When a careful and accurate diagnosis, watchful attention to the details and procress of every case, medicines specially prepared by registered and trained pharmacists for each individual ense, and the constant advice of skuliful physicians, and the constant advice of skuliful and successful specialists are possible to every one, no miniter where they live, at a low are per month, it is no wonder that this feat-opeland and practice to every one, no miniter where they live, at a low are per month, it is no wonder that this feat-opeland and practice to every one, no miniter where they live, at a low are per month, it is no wonder that this feat-opeland and practice to every one, no miniter where they live, at a low are per month, it is no wonder that this feat-opeland and practice to every shown as a suppreciated whether I lived or died. The possible to every sole of skuliful physical states and procress of every case weeks I feit great benefit. The possible to the first three weeks I feit great benefit. The possible to continue I and Knepard for treatment is appreciated. When a suppreciation of the countries of the procress of successions and stiff whether I lived or died. At this time I ap every one, no matter where they live, at a low rate per month, it is no wonder that this feature of mail treatment is appreciated. The Copeland and practice today extends to almost every city and village in the United States. A trained stenographer, unser the personal direction of Dr. Snepard, enables them to head compare consultations with out-of-town patients. A system of correspondence, by which the patient reports procress and condition once or twice a week, enables the physician to keep in touch with the patient, and it can only be by the patient's curelessness or negligence that the treatment can fail to be satisfactory.

MRS. G. A. DAVIES, wife of an implement dealer. Glenwood, lowa, writes: "I have been greatly benefitted by your entarth treatment. My general health is much better, and those terribic headaches I had for years are entirely cone; also a choking feeling and misery through my chest."

MRS. C. L. ROBINSON, KEARNEY, NER, writes: "I want to take another month's treatment, as your me delnes have neighed ma a great deal. My asthmats a great deal better. I can work and it don't make me feeling; my complexion is better: I feel better all over. I trust the next medicine will do as much good."

men good."
MRS. GERTRUDE LOUI. MINERAL POINT, MIS. GERTRUDE LOUI. MINERAL POINT. WIS. says: I had much stomach and heart trouble with faint spells and cramps My stomach would ache and cramp two or three days at a time. I was in great agony. Dark spots would come before my eyes and I was dizzy and weak. I tried many doctors, but Drs Copeland and Shebard were the only ones who could help me. They have entirely cured me, and I am so thankfith."

RHEUMATISM.

The Wife of Contractor Clegler Speaks of "Many a night I walked the floor to ease my pain." This was the introduction to the statement of Mrs. Nancy Clerier, 23rd and K streets. South Omaha, the wife of the well known brick contractor. "For two months refore I got help I scarcely closed my eyes at night so great was my distress. All through my chest and shouriers I had stabling pains that cut like a knife. Taking a deep breath would almost kill me. At other traces the heavy aching pains were simply unbearable. The firsh and nuscles of the chest, arms and lower limbs was so sore it felt as if it would drop off. The loss of sivep and suffering mode me terribly weak. Our sing in the morning I could not walk—but just staggered around. Her Experience.
